

Models and algorithms in stochastic programming with emphasis on risk aversion

Rüdiger Schultz (University of Duisburg) 15/05/2009.

Stochastic programming offers flexible instruments for optimization under uncertainty. We review risk neutral and risk averse modeling approaches, discuss some basic algorithmic ideas, and report numerical experiences with problem instances from power optimization.